The closing date for submitting photographs for THE FAMILY OF MAN, the international photography exhibition being sponsored by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, has been extended from April 10 to May 1, for entries from within the United States; and to May 15, for foreign entries.

More than 1000 photographers, both amateur and professional, have already submitted photographs to the exhibition which is being organized by Edward Steichen, Director of the Museum's Department of Photography, in connection with the Museum's forthcoming 25th anniversary celebration.

The exhibition, which will be a comprehensive exploration of photography's achievements in recording human relations, has been described as, "one of the most ambitious photography undertakings attempted by any art museum." It will open in January 1955 at the Museum of Modern Art in New York. Additional editions of the exhibition will open simultaneously in Europe, Asia and Latin America and then will circulate throughout the world.
