Press Preview: Monday, April 9, 1962
11 a.m. - 4 p.m.

50 Drawings, an exhibition of recent and outstanding acquisitions, will be on view at the Museum of Modern Art from April 10 through August 12. Selected by William S. Lieberman, Curator of Drawings and Prints, the exhibition includes works by Boccioni, Dufy, Kirchner, Shahn and Tchelitchew, several drawings by sculptors and recent examples from Brazil, France, Germany, Guatemala, Poland and the United States.

Mr. Lieberman has also edited an illustrated 28-page bulletin accompanying the show.

The exhibition is held in conjunction with the announcement by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller 3rd, President of the Museum, of the formation of the Paul J. Sachs Committee on Drawings and Prints and plans for the Paul J. Sachs Gallery in the new Museum of Modern Art building. Professor Sachs, a founder of the Museum and eminent authority in the field of drawings and prints, has selected the Committee named in his honor. Members are: Walter Bareiss, E. Powis Jones, Mrs. Gertrude A. Mellon, John S. Newberry, Bernard J. Reis, Lessing J. Rosenwald, Mrs. Maurice Wertheim and James Thrall Soby.

The earliest acquisition in the show is Redon's Mask of the Red Death of 1883. Major movements in the first decades of the 20th century such as the fauves, expressionism, cubism and futurism are represented by significant examples. Miró's most important drawing, The Family, together with a late Tanguy and an Oelze suggest the international implications of surrealism. A few drawings reflect the variety of style within the work of a single major figure, Picasso.

The Paul J. Sachs Gallery in the new Museum will always have on view a representative selection of drawings and prints as well as changing exhibitions from the collections itself, Mrs. Rockefeller said. In addition acquisitions such as those in the current show can be shown within the framework of what is already owned. Also provided will be a study room with adjacent and adequate storage facilities, technical equipment and offices, none of which at present exist.

Although the Museum of Modern Art Collection of prints and drawings - started by a gift from Professor Sachs in 1929 - is now considered one of the finest in the world less than two-tenths of one percent of the prints and one and a half percent of the drawings can be shown in the existing overcrowded galleries. In the projected Paul J. Sachs Gallery it is planned to have about 50 drawings permanently on view and about 150 prints.

The new Museum of Modern Art building is one of the major goals of the Museum's current 30th Anniversary Drive for $25,000,000 which also includes program and endowment funds. Since the drive was launched in the fall of 1960, more than $16,000,000 has been given or pledged. Last November the Museum announced that all future pledges and gifts would be matched dollar for dollar by a grant from the Rockefeller Brothers Fund.
